Alberta Government Crop Report

Issued by Dept. of Agriculture, Govt. Alberta, September 13, 1924.

Harvesting operations are about 75 per cent. completed in the southern portions of Alberta, and threshing has commenced, but will not be general for a week. In the central and northern districts, where backward weather has delayed the ripening of the grain, the cutting of wheat is from 25 to 40 per cent. completed, with the threshing done. The weather in these districts during the past fortnight has been characterized by several warm sunny days which have ripened the wheat to the harvesting stage. The oat crop is still rather green, however, and its ripening has been further delayed by rain and cool weather of the past few days. A very small percentage of the oat and barley crop is cut.

Total Average
The total acreage in wheat in the province has been finally set at 6,022,491 acres as compared with 5,775,753 acres in 1923. The average in fall wheat is set at 37,122 as compared with 36,100 in 1923. The reason for the considerable reduction shown is that the department believes that in past years too great a proportion of the wheat acreage has been estimated as in fall wheat. As a consequence the estimate is being corrected this year, the difference being included in the spring wheat area.

It is estimated that about 12 per cent. of the total wheat acreage has suffered from drought to such an extent that the wheat will either not be harvested at all or the yield will be so light as to be scarcely a factor in the total yield of the province.

From reports received by the department from correspondents and from field men, it is held against that the average yield of wheat over the total area sown would not be more than 11 bushels to the acre, but owing to the very large area which will either not be harvested at all or will show a very light yield, it is difficult to make an accurate estimate of the average yield. The final estimate will not be made until threshing operations have been about completed. In the more favored districts of the province, namely the southwestern district, and some of the central and northern districts, the yield will be somewhat higher, and in a number of cases will reach even as high as 20 bushels to the acre. Generally speaking, the wheat on summerfallow is expected to yield much higher than that on spring plowing or stubble land, the difference in many cases being 10 to 12 bushels an acre. It is estimated that there are 2,532,939 acres of wheat

Cutting Nearly Completed

Threshing This Week

Favored with ideal weather, cutting has progressed rapidly during the past three weeks and now nearly all the grain is cut, with the exception of late oats. There was a little frost on one or two nights, but not sufficient to do any damage. Threshing commenced last week, and will be general by the end of this week. As noted in another column, the first spring plowing threshed averaged twenty bushels, and the first stubble threshed in Carseland averaged sixteen bushels. Some big yields are looked for when threshing of summer-fallow is general. Some summerfallow has already been worked on has yielded thirty-two bushels per acre.

The crop will not be anywhere as large as last year, but as the price is about 40c per bushel higher, and labor costs lower, the expectation is that it will be at least as profitable as last season's.

BE CAREFUL, HUNTERS

Alarm was caused when fire started in Soren Sorenson's stable on Monday forenoon, apparently caused by duck hunters. The effort made to put the fire out was successful, but no thanks to the hunters, so Soren says.

Those who indulge in sport on other people's fields should at least be careful not to do damage. If they are not, prosecution will result.

on summerfallow land and new cropland, and 3,506,552 acres on spring plowing and stubble has taken place, the wheat, even though of light yield, has been found to be of good quality. In some districts there will be a rather heavy dosage for weeds.

America's Guest This Month

Eastern social circles are all agog over the visit to the United States this month of his royal highness, the Prince of Wales. Traveling under the name of David Bonifay, he witnessed the polo matches between the American and British teams at Meadowbrook Club, Westbury, L. I.

democratic attire. It was made on his Alberta ranch at the time he forgot his many royal ceremonies and receptions and chose to live the carefree life of a cowboy for a brief period. The serious look on him we can't explain, but, inwardly, we'll wager he's feeling a lot more comfortable and happy in those ranch clothes than if he were parading in one of his many gorgeous uniforms.

Why Is It—

Saturday Night in Strathmore

"They shall speed like the lightning; they shall run on the broadways, and they shall stink on the streets."

This is an alleged Scripture quotation we heard employed by a Worcester speaker in our hearing several weeks ago. We say alleged, because we looked up our Bible, and could not find it. Probably it is there alright. Anyway it seems like a good description of Saturday night in Strathmore during the harvest and threshing season. Second Street is full of motor cars of all kinds and sizes from the humble Ford truck to the lordly limousine. This street was planned when there were only one or two motor cars in the district, but with a presence that has sometimes been lacking since the village fathers decided to keep the buildings farther back from the road by each lot owner contributing a slice of his frontage, and it was well that they did not otherwise there would be no parking space for the cars that come from long distances to purchase the requirements for the following week, or to take in the fun of the town.

Take a walk with us, starting at the King Edward hotel. A hum of conversation arises from the beer parlour, where Mine Host Miller and his assistants are dispensing Alberta's far-famed beer. Not many travelling men, naturally, are around the hotel to night, for they are now home for the weekend, but they give the King Edward a good name for comfort and courtesy when they are here. The hotel restaurant is accommodating a number who are having a belated supper.

We Go Up the Street
Next door to L. B. O. Loomis has his office light burning, catching up on the insurance and land business of the week, and ready to entertain the prospective land buyers. In the adjoining office Fred Cuth has found a haven of refuge for the Strathmore Meat Market since the fire, and is doing a big business in meats and the usual butcher supplies, stimulated by the proverbial appetites of the harvest and threshing crews.

Pastmaster Martin has ceased activities for the evening, but is kindly leaving the office open up till nine o'clock, so that box holders can get their mail.

As we approach Fox's, the biggest store in Strathmore, we find a constant stream of traffic out and in, cars outside being loaded up with groceries. Inside the large staff have their hands full attending to the crowd of customers, but everything is proceeding in an efficient and well ordered manner. Fox's is a drawing card for Strathmore, for prices are low, and quality is guaranteed.

Across the line we find that Geo. Smith, of the Pioneer Meat Market, also in temporary quarters since the fire, is busy with many orders. Vegetarians seem to be at a discount here, if George's business is an indication. Fred Dunn, of the Strathmore Real Estate Agency, is located in the Barber & Craddock building, and is now working up a good business since he started this spring. Next door Mat Barber and Frank Craddock are busy, and Mat is wearing a loud, wide wrapping up a box of shotgun shells for a man who was intended to be after the ducks, in telling of his eighty fairs as a hunter in the past, and of what he intends to do this season.

From Barber & Craddock's we go on past the "devastated area" where the ravages of the fire are being replaced by new buildings, until we come to Harry Anderson's. Harry is getting a lot of business in binder repairs, for the best binders will break (Continued on another page.)

Vancouver is Pool Terminal

Alberta Pool Initial Payments

For the first time on record prices for wheat were quoted on a basis of "in store Vancouver," when the initial payments for wheat were approved by the Board of Directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool on Friday.

The decision to make Vancouver the terminal so far as price quotations are concerned is of great importance to farmers in this district. The wheat rate per hundred pounds from Strathmore to Vancouver is 22½ cents, while to Fort William it is 26 cents. Furthermore at Vancouver the grain is at tide-water, while at Fort William it is only at the head of the Lakes, and a journey of another 2,000 to 3,000 miles, according to the season, and several shipments are necessary before the grain reaches the ocean steamer. While the Pacific coast route to Liverpool is longer than the other, yet ocean transportation costs are much lower than lake or rail, and Vancouver is open the year round.

Last year, when the flood was first formed, the initial price was 75 cents per bushel Fort William, and 50 cents at Strathmore. This year the initial price at Strathmore is 81½ cents per bushel. The total payments on the 1923 crop amounted to $1.01 per bushel at Fort William.

Following are the initial pool payments on wheat in carlots, according to grade, for the present season:

FIRST WHEAT IN STRATHMORE

The first load of 1924 wheat to arrive in Strathmore was taken into the Robin Hood Elevator, operated by Mr. T. H. Eves, on Friday morning. It grades No. 2 and weighed 64 pounds to the bushel. A carload was loaded Tuesday. Mr. Harwood informs us that this wheat, which was on spring plowing averaged twenty bushels to the acre.

Rockyford Locals

Fred Gibson delivered four Ford cars during the week.

Local hunters were out in force Monday. Messrs Gillespie, Tiffin and Kottershaug brought in 37 ducks. Bill Walker and Billy Curran 28, and others had equally good luck.

Mrs. Geo. Tharion was the winner in the Ladies Handicap Tennis Tournament completed last week. Congratulations are due to Mrs. Tharion on her splendid playing.

The Tennis Club intend holding a dance in the near future, probably October 21st.

Quite a number of members of the Rockyford Golf Club visited Glenora last Sunday and played in a golf tournament. The local boys are very much pleased with the reception accorded them by the Glenora players, and when Glenora comes over here two weeks hence, Sunday, September 28th, we want to go to them one better and give them a real good time; so be sure and turn out in full galore, and get busy.

The committee in charge of collecting funds for rebuilding the Tutor, Tutor Hall, are pleased to report that $157 has already been promised to aid in the work. They are pleased with an excellent response, and if anyone has not yet been called upon, or missed, kindly see Carl Brown, or any of the committee.

Remember the Harvest Dance on October 2nd, in the big hall.

The girls of Rockyford are holding a Leap Year dance on October 16th. Mrs. Myers' complete jazz orchestra. Don't forget the date.

Miss Dorothy Henderson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Henderson, of Tutor, and Miss Dorothy Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Schaefer, left last week for Portland, Ore., U.S.A., where they will continue their high school studies.

Mrs. August Stina has returned from Tucson, where she left her son, Alphonse, and her daughter, John, in the Catholic school at that place.

Union Church Notes

At a meeting of the Board of the Tutor District held in Tutor on Monday last, Rev. C. E. Brown expressed appreciation of the good work done in the past by the hearty co-operation of brethren and people, and without doubt we are looking for a continuation of deep interest in everything of a helpful character in every community we serve.

We are planning for our Anniversary services about the end of October, when we hope for a good day of inspiration. This is to be a day not for making money, but for making a real impression for good in Rockyford and district.

The "Deaver Club" got away to a good start last Friday with a "heavy feed" in the basement of the church. The full number of the boys were present, and the following officers elected: Norman Bragg, leader; George Hunter, assistant leader; Duncan Sangster, secretary; Wallace Gibson, treasurer.

We hope to have our Y.P.S. reorganized in the near future.

Services have begun at Inuit, and will be held every other Wednesday, beginning September 2nd. We give a hearty invitation to all in the Inuit community to join with us in these services.

The Union Church Board are planning to no to their property one of the beauty spots in the town. This will take time, but it is going to be done.

"Come to Sunday School" Day will be observed in a special manner and programme at Crowfoot, Tutor, and Rockyford the last Sunday in September, and we want to see a real gathering that day of parents and children. This day is being observed all over the Dominion.

We have now resumed the Church Treasures Court from the wilderness of weeds, and the court is ready for play again.

On Sunday next Mr. Rogers will preach on the subject "The Gates of Hades."

Threshing Under Way

47 Bushel Yield Reported On Summerfall.

Threshing is becoming general throughout the district. Three cars had been shipped from Rockyford up till Tuesday, all of which graded No. 1 Northern. J. J. Stahl accounted for one. The A. P. Elevator had the first wheat of the 1924 season.

While stubble is light, summerfall is good throughout Rockyford district, and is reported to be averaging from 30 to 35 bushels. Stine Bros. have threshed a square section which is stated to have yielded 47 bushels per acre.

The car situation is good. 50 to 60 cars being at present on track at Rockyford.

Threshers Wages Set

Rockyford, Sept. 15, 1924

Editor, Strathmore Standard.

Dear Sir:

At a well attended and representative meeting of the threshermen of this district it was decided, after considerable discussion, that wages for teamsters and fieldpitchers be fixed at a maximum of $2.00 per day for an average run of 11½ hours. Such threshers to be paid an additional 50¢ per day where two are employed, to aid district pay where three are employed.

In computing the hours of work it was decided that the men should be allowed a reasonable length of time in returning to and from work, and that they should not be deemed for shut-downs unless the outfit was idle for a quarter of a day or more.

Men are plentiful and we are having no difficulty in securing our help at the above scale of pay.

Yours truly,

T. BENSTED

Secretary

Alberta's Day

For the first time in western history wheat prices are being quoted on a basis of Vancouver, instead of Port William. The initial payment for No. 1 wheat by the Alberta Wheat Pool is on a basis of $1.00 at Vancouver.

As shippers, the big British Milling Co. who have bought the Alberta Pacific line of elevators, and are also constructing a terminal elevator at Vancouver, and a flour mill at Calgary will naturally ship via Vancouver. It is practically certain that at least ninety per cent. of Alberta's wheat will go West to the seaboard.

Four years ago Alberta was the furthest distant of any province from the ocean terminal elevators. Now it is the nearest. This is a fact of great importance to the welfare of all who live in the Province.

The extreme probability that the Wheat Pool and Shippers will between them handle nearly all of Alberta's 1924 crop is another fact of great importance, for it means the elimination of the middleman.

The Shippers Company are actually shippers, buying for their own consumption, while the Wheat Pool is a farmers' company. Speculation will still exist of course, as a factor in raising and lowering grain prices, but in Alberta the profit or loss will fall to the farmer and the miller.

Alberta, for a time the Cinderella of Canadian Provinces, by reason of her youth and her distance from the older Provinces, has undergone her transformation. To complete the analogy, we will have the Prince (of Wales) with us within the next week or so, and he is so charmed with our Province that he is making his third visit in five years, and has cast in his lot with us as a farmer.

With our great agricultural resources, our store of coal, gas, our prospective oil resources, and our vast power, our province is coming into its own. The next ten years will justify the faith of those who kept their faith in her future through lean and tedious times.

Some might consider that undue importance is attached to the visits of the Prince of Wales to Alberta. Let those who consider so stop to reflect that the British Crown is the centre on which the Government of the British Empire revolves, and that the Prince of Wales is the Empire's best advertiser (for proof see New York papers of recent date). The fact that the Prince is interested in Alberta and is diverting the eyes of the whole Empire to this Province. Alberta's natural resources only require to be adequately advertised to be utilized. The British are a business people, and they recognise that a mixture of sentiment is necessary for good business. Loyalty to the institution is one of the great factors in any business, and the British Crown pays its cost many times over in the reciprocal sentiment it engenders.

Whisky Sales Down

It is stated that the Government is not making the profits expected on their liquor stores, the volume of hard liquor sold being much less than had been anticipated.

This bears out the contention of the Alberta Moderation League, previous to the plebiscite, that by making it easy to obtain beer of low alcoholic content, less hard liquor would be sold, and the volume of drunkenness and lawbreaking decreased.

It is doubtful, also, if many of the hotels are making more money under the present system of open sale than under the so-called prohibition regime. However, they are now making sales legitimately.

The New Act seems to be working out well, and if the public continue to give it their co-operation by assisting to convict those who break the law, and the system of heavy penalties to lawbreakers is maintained, it will prove generally satisfactory. We are sorry to note that in some cases the sentences handed out by the judicial authorities have been reduced on appeal. Jail is the best corrective of this type of law breaking.

We also trust the Government will be induced to endeavor to popularize the sale of hard liquor by increasing the price of beer.

Our observations during our recent visit to Europe have been that the beer drinking countries are the most temperate. In Belgium, beer and light wines are the chief factors in intoxication sold over the counters. France has also greatly restricted the sale of hard liquor, and in Great Britain the Government has achieved a large measure of temperance, as compared with pre-war years, by increasing the price of hard liquor, restricting the hours of sale, and diluting draft whisky to 48 per cent. under proof. Drunkenness in Britain is not one-tenth of what it was a decade ago.

School Fair

Last Thursday evening there was a well attended meeting of the School Fair Committee.

It was decided that in classes dealing with school work, sewing, etc., in the afternoon, the prizes for the School Fair Bulletin were not in the prize list. Prizes will be awarded for those left put. This includes numbers 46, 48, 51, 52, 56, 58, 61, 67, 70, 74, 75, 82, 83, 86, 91, 93 and 94 in the School Fair Bulletin. Teachers please notice this change.

Committees were also appointed to take charge of the various sections on the day of the fair. The committee makes an earnest request that all competing schools will take part in the parade, starting from the park at 1:30 p.m. Sports will begin at 2 p.m. at the school grounds. Namaka will play Strathmore at 10:00 ball.

All compositions must be in the hands of the secretary by Friday, September 27th.

There is an ample supply of plant-mounting cards and insect pins on hand. These or any information may be obtained on application to the secretary.

A meeting of the teachers of the district will be held at 5 p.m. Wednesday, October 8th, to plan next year's school fair work, and to discuss matters of interest to the teachers. It is hoped to have a 100% attendance.

SCHOOLS OF AGRICULTURE OPEN

The provincial schools of agriculture at Olds and Chetumal will open for the 1924-25 term on October 28, the term closing on March 27. In these schools free courses in practical agriculture and some economics are offered for boys and girls over 16 interested in taking these courses. No examination requirements are set for entrance.

"MEN'S BETTER WEAR"

It's Nice

It's nice to be a farmer, and to jazz along through life. In your little old tin Henry, with your kiddies and your wife. There's surely joy in this old world, when you get a big fat crop; But when the rain forests to come, it makes you step and hop.

It's nice to be a farmer, for you'll find a lot of sport. In reading what the wise man say in the weekly crop report.

It makes you grin all over, when the price begins to soar. But, Oh! it's awful, Mable, when it doesn't rain no more.

It's nice to be a farmer, when the toll of day is over. To watch the clouds gather as they've often done before. It's fun to watch the lightning, and hear the thunder roar. But it makes a poor guy wonder, when the storm shoots past his door.

Mr. Young, winner of the men's 1923 consolation medal, has also kindly offered his medal for further competition. The list is open for entries for the Gross Score Trophy Cup, presented by Mrs. Patrick. This cup is intended for play in the spring. 3 rounds of medal or stroke play, of 18 holes each to become the property of the lady number who wins it in this manner three different seasons.

Conditions of Presentation
It has been decided for this one year, 1924, as the season is late and the days short, to play three different rounds of 9 holes each (gross score, medal play) the winner of the best aggregate to hold the cup until the spring when it will be played for again. 18 holes medal play, three different days.

Baintree Sidelines

Lo, Catedral, delighted to see you in print again.

Say fellows, last week we forgot to relate the most exciting incident of our fishing trip. One night, while enjoying a beautiful slumber, we were awakened by a terrific pounding on the wall of the tent. Thinking that the last night had come, we got ready to say a prayer, when, bingo, the tent was moved across the ground no less than three feet. After meditating for a brief space, we reached the conclusion that bandits were trying to flick the last precious bag of Boli Durham. Grabbing up the old blunderbus, which was already loaded with 10 shot, we warned the disturbers of the peace that one step more would mean bloodshed. Another terrrible crash. The gun went off, the tent collapsed, and so did the scribbles. The long night was passed in listening to the groans of the wounded desperado, and at the first streak of daylight we peeped out of the overturned tent. What do you think we saw? An old milk cow, who had broken her stake pin, was all tangled up in a neighboring tree, our temporary home, and the remains of her chain. Chewing her cud in the noisy manner that cows do when perfectly contented, she allowed us to take enough milk for the morning porridge. Moral—Once in a while good is returned for evil.

A well known English gentleman, who every few years, brings his much-travelled trunk before the symposium, is again in the soup. This time he lacerated the door in his wife's face, and for doing that very naughty thing, is being sent for divorce. We don't wish the aristocratic gentleman any harm, but we hope his next wife will be Irish. From our extensive and intensive knowledge of the "Fighting" Race, he'd have one wild time putting on new doors.

News items in this old burg is a little scarce this week.

The mayor and the fire chief have the town all dolled up for 21st, when he comes to see us. The U.F.A. is working hard by day, and sleeping peacefully at night, while the members of the U.F.W.A. and other social organizations keep the telephone busy by telling their friends the best kind of syrupy creamed peaches.

The three-out would fight made by the American aviators makes us once more realize the meaning of Mr. Kipling's words: "The man the individual, the army as a whole. But the close co-operation of every blooming soul." With the foresight and thoroughness of the pure, capable plans for the support of the flyers were made. These were carried out to the letter, and the great feat was carried out to a triumphant conclusion. For their splendid achievement the American aviators will receive the plaudits of every member of the English speaking race, and while the cry of every Britisher was with the gallant Melaren in his lonely effort, no son of old John Bull will grade the palm of victory to the damnable Americans who carried the stars and stripes over mountain, sea, and plain.

Last week was a very strenuous one in the good old U.S.A. The arrival of the American flyers, the wind up of a notorious trial; the fight between the tame cat of Joseph Chamberlain, and a chaste and gentleman, not to mention the visit of the Prince of Wales. Our towns across the line surely love variety, and what is more, insist on getting it. Did you ever hear this one? A Scotman and an Englishman were arguing about the respective merits of their nationalities. The Scot pulled out a long list of his famous countrymen, when the Englishman asked him if Shakespeare was Scotch. "No," was the crushing retort of Randy. "But you got to admit that he was smart enough to be one."

During the month of June, when everything was burning up, a storm appeared on the horizon. The scribbles were getting ready to rejoice when the darned thing split in two and let us blither than ever. Overcome by our emotion, we sat down in the spud patch, and vented our feelings in the following manner:

CHAMPS IN THE WATER — NYMPHS ON LAND

How our photographers ever got this picture of grace and beauty, we're a loss to know. He may have worked a "kink" in his neck to get it from a prone position or perhaps he dug a deep hole in the sand and snaped it that way. At any rate, his trusty camera did not fall behind the girl he got in this photograph is remarkable.

The trio of fair maidens pictured are all swimming champions getting a bit of exercise on the sand at Look Beach, L. I., prior to taking a dip in the surf. As hardy swimmers, it has often been wondered how they retained their forms divine. This photo explains it. Aerobic dancing on the beach together with regular turns in the water keeps their body contour practically perfect.

At the time this picture was made, these young maidens were members of a party that put on a unique birthday celebration in the Olympic pool in honor of Miss Helen Bink, Olympic champion diver. And, they all had a great time they tell us. Wish we'd been there.

And here we come to Tommy Walker. Tommy is doing a land office business, especially with the young fellows, who are looking for some classy clothes to attract the girls. Also the numerous waiters in the harvest fields are getting their supplies of goods suitable for that heavy job. Tommy is savvy itself. He is a super-salesman, and he has the goods.

The Strathmore Trading Coy. is another busy spot, and the genial manager, Mr. Strathmore, and his staff are passing out large quantities of groceries and dry goods. The big carload of fruit that came in on Tuesday is dwindling away.

Calgary Prices Bettered

While here it may not be amiss to mention that whereas two years ago it was a source of complaint that prices for various fruits in Strathmore were much higher than in Calgary, the position is now reversed. Messrs Fox and Strathmore are shipping direct from B.C. in car lots, the middleman is eliminated, and the Strathmore housewife gets her fruit for preserving for less money than the Calgary buyer.

Porter's Bakery, which only moved over to the location next to the Strathmore Trading Coy. this summer, is doing a good business. He is supplying ninety per cent. of the local trade, besides having orders from outside points. For the entertainment of his ice cream and soda customers he has a fine radio set, with loud speaker.

A line of cars are alongside the Memorial Hall, where Mammal Hittle is putting on his regular Saturday show to a large audience.

We Go Down the Street

Coming down the other side of the street, and eliminating for the time being the lawyers, doctors, and so forth, on the way, we come to the Strathmore Hardware, where A. B. Brown is busy getting out supplies for the season which started on the fifteenth, and also attending to various requirements, for this week the hardwareman is abroad in the land, and his wants are numerous and varied.

A few retorts, the Strathmore Pharmacy occupies the east side of the Hardware, and here, Red McKelvie is busy compounding pills and potions, selling naphthalene, toothpaste, and all sorts of things, meanwhile drawing off the fine new store he is going to occupy within a few weeks time.

Another gap in the street front caused by the July fire, and we come to a very unimpressive office, where Harold Bell and his good lady are conducting their garage business. Harold has all the confidence in his town, a good mayor ought to have, for although his building was not affected by the fire, he has torn it down to put in its stead a fine brick edifice. Meanwhile business is being conducted in the unimpressive office aforesaid, and in the King Edward Library.

Next is Saunders' harness shop, where "Dad" and Billy are busy attending to the numerous repairs consequent on the harness store. Here also Mr. E. W. R. Lambert, one of Strathmore's earliest business men, is carrying on his dress business until his brick building on the old location is completed.

Next we come to Roland Hill's Hub, Billard Room and Bowling Alley. The tables are busy with many waiting for their turn, and the alleys are also at capacity, the comely countenance of "John" at the pin and sweating with the endeavor. The tobacco counter is keeping Billy Williams busy.

We Go Round the Corner

From there to the end of the street we find Bob and Frank, Strathmore's barbers, trimming down the whiskers, which is as prolific as yore, of Casey Norcross looking after the sales of Strathmore and vicinity, and several natives of the Celestial Kingdom preying to the wants of the lower man. Retracing our steps we come to the Maple Leaf Garage, where Nels White and his staff are busy fixing Ponts and other kinds of cars, and also passing out T.B.C. repairs. Since coming into Strathmore Nels has been doing a good business, and in another two months will be installed in a hotel garage on Second Street.

On Third Street we find Jake Harsch doing a big business in ice cream and the various lines which enable us to keep cool in the hot weather.

We Finish

At the end of our perambulating this Saturday night, we wind up appropriately, as we began, at a hotel, operated under the benediction and grace of the Alberta Government. This is the Strathmore Hotel, operated by our old friend Bob Inglis. And here you may leave us, unless you feel like one. The trip we have made tonight entitles us to a refresher, doesn't it?

Rosebud Notes

On Saturday afternoon last, September 13th, the children of Rosebud United Sunday School are holding their annual picnic in the grove to the East of the town. All the parents and children are invited to attend and make the day complete.

On Saturday evening, September 13th, the U.F.W.A. held their regular meeting in the church. There was a good attendance and an interesting and enjoyable evening was spent.

At the regular meeting of the U.F.A. on Saturday evening it was decided to hold a dance on October 10th. This will be a Harvest Dance, and should be well patronized, as the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. have the reputation of putting on the finest class of dances.

The Rev. Mr. Reenie, of Calgary, coventor of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church, conducted the services in Rosebud on Sunday, and his interesting addresses were thoroughly enjoyed by the large congregation. Both in the afternoon and evening. There was a communion service in the evening about twenty-five people remaining for it after the sermon. This is the largest number which Rosebud church has ever had at communion, and it is very encouraging to the Church Board and workers. In the afternoon there were fourteen small children of this district christened, the service being most impressive. Mr. Walker will be giving his farewell address on Sunday next, September 21st. In the evening, and it is hoped that the attendance in regard to the services during the winter.

Threshing has started in the district, and Mr. Amos Clark hailed the first load of wheat to Rosebud on Monday last. Other farmers, who are in the midst of their threshing operations, are Messrs Ensbarn, Nolan, Nicklissen, McLaughlin, Brummer, and Geo. Bille on the Maher farm. So far there has been no frost and every day improves the quality of the wheat. The farmers of the district are quite optimistic.

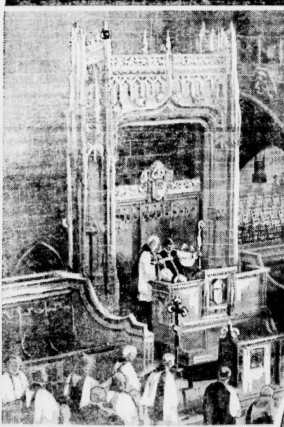

SPLENDID STORY IS AGNES AYRES' "RACING HEARTS"

A splendid automobile story of love and thrills is Agnes Ayres' latest Paramount picture, "Racing Hearts," which will be shown at the Memorial Hall Saturday evening.

Miss Ayres, as the peppy young daughter of an automobile manufacturer, endeavors to save the firm of the Granada Motors from bankruptcy by persuading her father to go in for advertising. "Ginger" as Miss Ayres is known in the story, sets out on her own hook to obtain some unhappy publicity for the Granada cars. She is arrested for speeding and later wins the Grand Prize Race.

Richard Dix, as Roddy Smith, an automobile engineer, has the leading male role opposite Miss Ayres. Theodore Roberts is Ginger's father, Robert Cain as the villain, Warren Rogers as a mechanic and J. Farrell McDonald as Smithville's "deft waxon" judge, complete the clever cast.
